

Are You Ready

Your Career Readiness Certificate shows you can do the job. It could mean the difference between starting your new career or starting over. So, get ready.

The Virginia CRC is a portable credential designed to provide evidence that an individual is ready for work with respect to fundamental standards or workforce literacy. Endorsed by the Governor of Virginia, the CRC can distinguish and certify your skills in the job market and proves to an employer that you possess what it takes to be successful. The CRC is a clear standard tool to assess the competencies of an individual in the workplace skill areas of: Reading for Information, Applied Mathematics, and Locating Information.
